CODDIEZ

WHY ?

---

Almost all of us take part in coding contests that are organized by many different competitive programming websites. We take part in a competition, and that's it? Of course not. We have to keep track of our submissions, activities, ratings, ranking, and many more things.

Although now most of the CP websites have made these features available in their websites. But the few problems are like we can't add friends in some CP websites, so we have to remember their id's to compare with them. Like in CodeChef, there is no feature to add friends. And one more significant problem is that we all have accounts on more than one CP website, so it will never be an excellent option to switch between the tabs to see our profile on different websites.

So is there any solution? Yes!! --> This is why we have made CODDIEZ

CODDIEZ

WHAT ?

---

Features like chat, activity, profile, contests schedules, and timings, the leaderboard will definitely increase your efficiency.

Here you can keep track of all our CP profiles, compare and interact with your friends in a single place!

SIGN IN

---

If you already have an account.
Just write your username and password and enjoy all its features.

SIGN UP

If you don't have an account no need to worry.

Select your college, Graduation year, Batch, and all other essential details to make it easier for us to present before you the best features we can.

HANDLE !?

We have used the handle a lot in our app. So basically, what is the handle?

In the online world, a handle is another word for a username. It can refer to the name you use in chat rooms, web forums, and social media services. So in any CP website, your username is your handle.

CONTESTS

---

We have added a feature to make you updated with all ongoing and upcoming coding contests. Along with that, you can check your current and highest rating and activity of any CP website.

LEADERBOARD

---

Different leaderboards for all CP websites are there to compare your score or rating with your friends. It will promote healthy competition among yourselves and complete development in you.

CHAT

---

To keep in mind the interaction between you and your friends, we have also added a chat feature. You can discuss and solve each other's doubts and can improve together.

MY PROFILE

---

If you made any mistake while filling in your details, you could edit them in my profile. Also, you can watch your activity on your way.

DEVELOPERS

---

For any queries regarding the app, you can connect with us on different social media.
